

Episode 2:

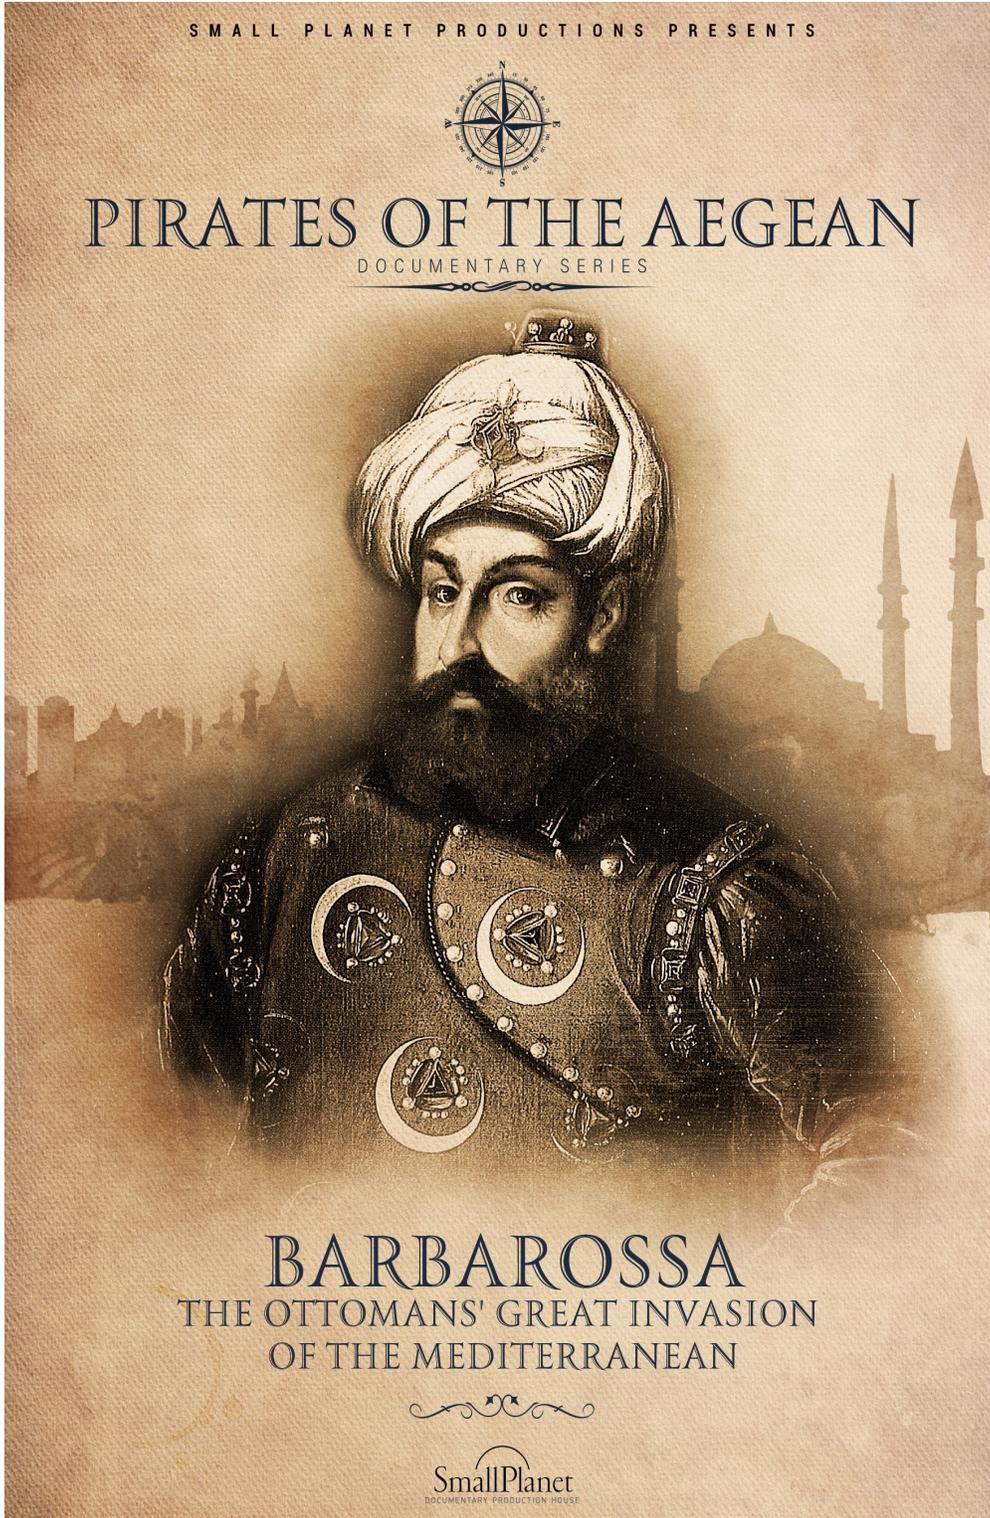

BARBAROSSA

The Ottomans' Great Invasion of the Mediterranean

SMALL PLANET PRODUCTIONS PRESENTS

PIRATES OF THE AEGEAN
DOCUMENTARY SERIES

BARBAROSSA
THE OTTOMANS' GREAT INVASION
OF THE MEDITERRANEAN

SmallPlanet
DOCUMENTARY PRODUCTION HOUSE

SYNOPSIS

Barbarossa. One name, two men. Two 16th century brothers from the island of Lesbos, successively pirates, corsairs, rulers of Algiers, saviours of the Muslims of Andalucia, and nightmare of the Christian populations throughout the Mediterranean - effectively purged from sea and land

When Oruç falls to a Spaniards' sword, Hizir swears revenge, shedding the blood of “infidels” in an endless Holy War against the West. The Sultan appoints him the first Admiral of the Ottoman Fleet; Barbarossa establishes absolute dominion of the Empire over the Mediterranean and the Aegean Archipelago. The Ottomans' great invasion of the sea is now a fact.

Main Credits

Producers: Yorgos Avgeropoulos, Anastasia Skoubri

Direction: Christos Georgiou

Script: Yorgos Avgeropoulos

Research: Dimitris Demesoukas, Fenia Chala

Editing: Kostas Christakopoulos

Original music: Yiannis Paxevanis

Director of Photography: Dimitris Kotsou

Narration: Ian Watts

A SmallPlanet Production ©2019